EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Ezra Sutton on November 7, 1997.

2. The application has been amended as follows:

claim 1, line 10, after "recessed opening", has been inserted --having a shape

B1 complementary to said extending section--;

claim 1, line 11, after "block", has been inserted --configured--;

claim 1, line 13, after "each", has been inserted --configured;

claim 1, lines 14 and 15, "of said aligned building blocks" has been changed to --when said

B2 building blocks are aligned, --;

claim 12, line 10, after "recessed opening", has been inserted --having a shape

complementary to said extending section--;

claim 12, line 11, after "block", has been inserted --configured--;

claim 12, line 13, after "each", has been inserted --configured;

claim 12, lines 14, "of said aligned building blocks" has been changed to --when said

B3 building blocks are aligned, --; and

Art Unit: 3301

3. claims 10 and 21 have been canceled.
4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the closest prior art which teaches the use of a rod for coupling as claimed by applicant, appears to be Babule et al (figure 5), however Babule et al do not teach the complementary interfitting shapes. Many other references teach the interfitting shapes, however do not teach the partial channels for the coupling rod. Therefore the combination of the interfitting blocks and the coupling rod means, in combination with the other recited elements is unique over the prior art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Laura Fossum whose telephone number is (703) 308-2678.
